WHEELING MEN ARE ENLISTING

IN A COMPANY BEING ORGAN-IZED BY LIEUTENANT C. H. PAYNE, A PROMINENT COLOR-ED MAN OF THE SOUTHERN PART OF THE STATE, WHO REPRESENTS FAYETTE COUN-TY IN THE HOUSE OF DELE-GATES-ANOTHER LETTER FROM CAMP ATKINSON.

Lieutenant C. H. Payne, of Charles ton, is here to obtain recruits to fill out the colored company which is being organized at the state capital for the Eighth Regiment United States Volunteers (colored). To-day all colored men who desire to enlist in this service will be given an opportunity to make application at Scott's barber shop, at the corner of Twelfth and Main streets. James Bargrow, of this city, is assisting in the work of Lieutenant Payne in re-cruiting the company and will be found cruiting the company and will be found at the above named place. The enlistment and physical examination will not be made here, but at Parkersburg, and those who in good farth make application will be transported to that city to morrow, Saturday, for this purpose. This limits the time that applications can be filed to one day.

It was etated lass signt by Mr. Bargrow that the comp. sy has filled up very well, and it is expected to obtain the remaining men necessary here and in Parkersburg. This is the first opportunity the colored men here have had to enter the volunter service, and is probable that a number will make application. Lieutenant Payne is well known as the colored member of the last legislature, and has a large acquaint-ance over the state among his race and enjoys the confidence and esteem of many of the leading white men.

Interesting Letter From the Intelligen-

CAMP ATKINSON, July 20.-The weather has cleared up since my last letter and the severe routine of drill has been resumed. Company "D," taking the lead as usual, has begun to learn extended order, and the men are much in-terested in studying the new formations. The non-commissioned officers' school, which is held by Captain Willis every day from 11:15 to 12:15, is a great help to a speedy acquirement of squad work and skirmishing.

The boy's were very much pleased to-and skirming.

The boys were very much pleased today to hear that their guns were on the way here, together with the rest of the equipment. The non-come, in particular, will be glad to get their chevrons and stripes, as they cannot get through the guard lines at present without a pass or the presence of a commissioned officer.

The boys have a new mascot in the shape of a small black kitten, which they call "Dewey," although it is rumored that "Mrs. Dewey," would be more appropriate. Company "C's" eagle is said to be very fond of kittens, and there was a report in circulation yesterday that "C's" men were trying to steal the kitten as a mess for "Jeff."

man in the regiment. So far he has found no one who is anxious to meet him.

Rumors as to the future movements of the "Second" are flying about thick and fast. One day it is stated "on the best authority" that it will move at a day's notice, and the next that it will remain in its present location for two or three weeks at least. One thing may be put down as authentic, and that is that the regiment will stay in the service for the full two years the men enlisted for, as the secretary of war told Governor Atkinson so during a recent visit of the latter to Washington.

The men are getting to know the bugic calls, and are fast learning the "soldier's privilege" of grumbiling at "reveilse" and "tays." Still there is very little of this kind of thing. Lleutenant Foster, of Company "D." who was in the United States service for seventeen years, says says he never saw as many men, all strangers to each other, get along with so little friction of any kind as do the "Second Regiment" soldiers. The writer has heard even the boot-blacks in Charleston barber shops say that our boys were "gentlemen," and that nothing was too good for them.

The people of Wheeling and vicinity may rest assured that the boys can fight as well as they can behave themselves in camp, and that is saying a great deal.

REMEMBERS OLD SCENES. Police Lieutenant Bickerton yesterday received a letter from C. E. Darby, now a corporal in Company G, Captain Franzheim, in the immune regiment, at Camp Cobb, Fredericksburg, Va. The heat and other trials of the camp are quite oppressive, writes Dar-by, and he says he often wishes he was loading at police headquarters again, and looking out the Bixteenth street windows at the passing crowd. He adds among other things, that his faculty to be embarrassed was severely tested re-cently, when he was promoted to cor-poral by the colonel of the regiment in the presence of 1,500 spectators.

EARLY MORNING ESCAPE

From a Disastrons Wreck on the Baltimore & Ohio Road West of This City. One Man was Badly Injured-The Train Made up Again Here. Early yesterday morning the Cincinnati express over the Baltimore & Ohio railroad due in this city at 5 a. m., made a narrow escape from a disastrous accident. It was switched at Neff's Siding, about five miles west of Beliaire, to allow a freight train to pass, when a helper of the freight ran into the rear Pullman car. An engineer who was riding in front of the helper was seriously if not fatally injured. The passengers in the sleeper and other cars were considerably shaken up.

Mr. D. Carter List, of this city, who was in the steeper, was joited out of his berth, and sustained some slight bruises.

The train proceeded to Wheeling, where it had to be made up again, owing to the damage done to the cars, especially the sleeper, which plainly showed the marks of having "been in it."

Engineer Lewis, the fireman, and Engineer Stewart, of McMechen, jumped, but Stewart sustained a fracture of three ribs.

TO AFLANTIC CITY.

The Pan Handle took out Over 100 People for the Senshers Yesterday Afternoon Including a Large Delegation from Parkersburg

The Pan Handle had its largest ex-cursion of the season to the seashore yesterday afternoon. The 3:55 train had more than one hundred excursionists for Atlantic City, the majority of whom were Wheeling people, though there was a large delegation up from Parkersburg via the afternoon Ohio River train, which boarded the Pan Handle's train here. There were two sleepers well filled with Wheeling excursionists and another from Parkersburg.

Ambng the Wheeling people who departed were the following:

Miss Cummins and party, William Miss Cummins and party, William Bodley and Will Bodley, James McCann and party. J. D. Hanes, Miss Braden, Mrs. M. Barton, J. H. Kirk and family. John Rellly, J. YESTERDAY AT THE ASSEMBLY

ON THE MOUNDSVILLE CAMP MEETING GROUNDS-SEVERAL INTERESTING ADDRESSES WERE DELIVERED-MISS BELLE KEARNEY, OF MISSISSIPPI, WENT AT HER TOPIC WITH EL-OQUENCE AND EARNESTNESS. NORTH STREET PICNIC.

Union had charge of the exercises at the Ohio Valley Prohibition Assembly yesterday and there was a large attendance. The day was a beautiful one and besides the regular tenants on the grounds the North street M. E. Sunday school, of Wheeling, spent the day at

The opening exercise was the Bible reading, conducted by Mrs. Jennie P. Siason. This was followed by a talk by Mrs. Calvert, of Pennsylvania, on the subject "How best to conserve our forces." She was very interesting and her remarks were brief and to the point. The next on the programme was a se-The next on the programme was a se-lection by the quartette, after which the three Beam brothers, of Moundwille, entertained the audience with music on

Mrs. Jerome H. Raymond, of Morgantown, spoke on "Higher Education and Woman's Opportunities." Her address was a very instructive one and she brought out many points which the women in the additioned took nome with them.

Mrs. Raymond was followed by Miss Mattle Justice, who rendered a very pleasing recitation, which was enjoyed by everybody.

After the exercises of the question drawer, the noontide prayer was held which closed the morning exercises.

In the afternoon the Daily quartette opened the programme, after which Rev. C. H. Mead made the announcement that the Woman's Christian Temperance Union had full charge and he bade them welcome. He paid quite a tribute to their work and in closing stated that Mrs. N. R. C. Morrow would explain to the audience what was on the programme.

explain to the audience what was on the programme.

For the opening Mrs. Jennie P. Sisson led the audience in prayer, after which Miss Ruth Hall, of Wheeling, sang a beautiful colo.

Mrs. Morrow introduced Miss Belle Kcarney, of Mississippi, who delivered the address of the afternoon. Miss Kearney has long been identified with the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, but this is her first appearance in this state. She is a very interesting speaker and holds her audience until the last. Yesterday she spoke to about 200 people, the majority of whom were ladies, and many of them young people. In opening her remarks she spoke of the late Miss Frances Willard, the founder of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, who did so much to bring the north and south together.

"I realize, my friends," she said, "that the greatest question absorbing the nation to-day is the war with Spain, and having so many friends fighting for our cause it is but natural you are interested, and I thank you very kindly for coming out to hear me." Continuing, she said it is new out of fashion to abuse the saloon and we have turned our attention to better work, that of digging at the roots of this great wrong. It is legislated and the money our country obtains as revenue is stained with blood; men who vote for it have their hands stained also. The licensed saloon makes paupers and our legislature makes jails where men are punished for carrying out the work which the saloons start. She had visited saloons and knew what they are; once when in Chicago, she was walking down to street on which is located the Maite saloon. She was with several ministers and made a proposition to enter; it was accepted and she would never forget what she saw inside. There were mirrors in every direction and one would certainly be pleased by the surroundings. Men stood around detaining men. Other places were also cited as being visited by her; in different cities and illustrations drawn of the life that is led in them.

Some countries have local option and T realize, my friends," she said, "that and flustrations grawn of the fire that is led in them.

Some counties have local option and others do not, thus it can be seen that while you are wiping out the saloon at one point, the liquor is being sold at another and sent into the first in another way. We must have a prohibitory law and not until we elect men who will uphold it will we wipe out this drink habit.

law and not until we steet men who will uphold it will we wipe out this drink habit.

In this country there are 12,000,000 voters and out of these it is estimated there are 6,000,000 Christians. It can be seen by this that the latter are voting for men who uphold the salcon. We have Christian lawyers, yet they will defend a salcon keeper. This is all wrong and we should awake to the fact.

The lugor business must be destroyed, but how are we going to do it. That is easy enough; only send men to Congress who will enact a prohibitory law and see that it is enforced. It can be done and we as a people have only to use our ballot right and that settles it. The American voter chould examine his ballot and if he would only pray a little oftener before casting it we would have a much better nation to-day. In concluding, she spoke of the good work performed by the ladles of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The women, she said, keep up the religion of both countries. They make up two-thirds of the church membership and pay off hearly all its debts. Such women as Clara Barton, who is at the head of the Red Cress Society, and others were not add for their grand work. She said she was sorry the did not have time to tell aff other grand work in this line and concluded by saying that she was slad that her skirts were not solled by anything pertaining to Grink and they never would be. The word Union, she said, amounted to a great deal in this work for it embraced many hundred

They want the Assembly.

Says last evening's Moundsville If the Prohibition Assembly hall goes to Wheeling it will be a severe blow to this community. We will be deprived of its educational advantages and will of its educational advantages and will miss the entertainments. A programme of the very best talent has been brought here annually. Its effects upon the moral sentiment of the people in the interest of temperance, morality and religion generally is hard to estimate. Its removal will injure the camp meeting. The effect of the absence of the assembly last year upon the camp meeting was plainly discernible. The hall can only be kept here by a liberal patronage by the people of Moundsville.

CLOTHING-D. GUNDLING & CO.

Illustrated Story.

A gentleman who had made a particularly good selection from one of our lines of Men's $10.00 Business Suits was met by an admiring friend, who propounded a series of interrogations.

These having been answered to the friend's satisfaction, he also found his way to our store and discovered that the half had not been told him. When he saw the values we were giving for the money, he gave expression to numerous exclamations.

While in the store he looked about a bit and found that then suits were not leaders on which we had made a low price to attract trade, but that the whole stock was just as cheap in proportion. And from that on, so far as buying clothing outside our store was concerned, he decided to mme to a full stop,
